

Meet in Montana

Western Montana's Glacier Country is a region steeped in natural wonders where inspiration, new ideas and authentic experiences are found among epic landscapes and cultural richness. Our captivating small towns and mid-size cities are brimming with genuine western hospitality. From a riverside lodge to a renovated barn or luxury guest ranch to a contemporary urban space in the heart of one of our cities, beautiful and distinct lodging properties and meeting places abound alongside modern offerings, unexpected culinary experiences and the latest in technology. With Glacier National Park and Flathead Lake as backdrops, find that perfect venue on the outskirts of town, or choose from our larger hubs of Kalispell, Missoula and Whitefish, offering meeting options as endless as our big blue sky.

Why Meet in Montana?

Location, Location, Location

This vibrant region boasts some of Montana's most awe-inspiring landscapes, blending bustling communities and small-town allure. With two regional airports, getting you and your meeting attendees here is a breeze. We often hear, "Montana is on my bucket list."

Lodging

Choose from historic, mountain or lakeside lodges, luxury guest ranches, hot springs resorts, glamping retreats, and hotels ranging from boutique to branded.

Off-Site Venues

Find inspiration off-site at places like national and state parks, ghost towns, hot springs, working ranches, cultural centers and museums.

Dining + Nightlife

Experience cowboy culture at a chuckwagon dinner or enjoy noteworthy culinary scenes with farm-to-table dining plus award-winning music venues, breweries and distilleries.

Activities + Adventure

Enjoy blue-ribbon fly-fishing, hiking, biking, horseback riding, whitewater rafting, golf, interpretive tours, boat cruises, main street shopping, stargazing and world-class skiing.

Awe-Inspiring Arts + Culture

Explore eclectic, historic and walkable downtowns with Broadway-caliber performing arts, as well as western and contemporary art galleries and museums.

Values + Deals

Take advantage of travel deals and shoulder-season rates in the fall, winter and spring. Added bonus: Montana has no statewide sales tax and a lodging tax of 8%.

Getting Here

With two regional airports—Missoula (MSO) and Glacier Park (FCA)—served by Allegiant, Alaska, American, Avelo, Delta, Frontier, Sun Country and United, there are plenty of nonstop and one-hub-stop options to provide smooth travel plans for meeting attendees. And with our well-maintained highway system, anchored by Interstate 90 and U.S. Highway 93, driving in Western Montana's Glacier Country is easy—and, as an added bonus, every route is scenic.

EASY AIRPORT ACCESS

It's only seven minutes from Missoula Montana Airport to downtown Missoula, and Whitefish and Kalispell are both located an easy 15 minutes from Glacier Park International Airport.
